HERALD'S CONTESTANTS WELL PLEASED WITH GREAT OFFER WHICH GIVES THEM UNUSUAL CHANCE TO GAIN MANY THOUSANDS OF FREE VOTES—IDEAL TIME FOR NEW CANDIDATES TO ENTER AND WIN A $400 HAMILTON PIANO.

CLUB YOUR SUBSCRIPTIONS

And Thereby Earn the Extra Votes—Ladies Who Do the Best Work Between Now and March 22 Will Secure the Most Votes—Get All Your Promises Collected Now, Then Go After More—Energy Counts Most at This Time—All Have Equal Opportunity in Securing Many Extra Vote Ballots.

It is a great fun with fine prospects of awards to be a Special Offer worker. To have entered the contest were joy enough itself but to know that you have every opportunity of winning one of the costly prizes, that no matter how enthusiastic you may be now, your pleasure will be thrice at the hour your name is announced to the public as that of a winner.

This week should see every contestant taking advantage of the Special Clubbing Offer which enables you to increase your vote by thousands and catch the leaders. One day of real energetic work now among your friends may serve to give you an array of votes that will mean victory at the close of this great enterprise.

Large numbers of votes will be received during the Special Clubbing Offer, and many new candidates will show remarkable strength and forge to the front. It is a good idea to keep well up in the list of candidates published daily in the paper. If you are a candidate and have entered the contest with the determination of winning one of those $400 pianos. It would be a wise policy to start at once to secure votes, as all payments on subscriptions entitle you to votes, according to the schedule published elsewhere in this paper.

Do not lose sight of the fact that in addition to the two $400 pianos nine other fine prizes will be given in each district.

Read Special Offer Carefully.

It will be well for contestants to clip out the offer as it appears on another page of this issue of The Herald and keep it for reference. This special offer is not to be confused with the vote allowed on the regular schedule. Candidates are to understand that the subscriptions can be clubbed in groups of five.

This splendid opportunity has been made as plain as possible. All that is necessary is to get out among your friends and get their subscriptions. Candidates will gain nothing by holding back one or two subscriptions until they get the full club, as this simply delays the delivery of The Herald or Weekly

Send in Your Subscriptions.

All candidates should turn in their subscriptions now, and secure special ballots for them, which they can hold and vote at any time during the contest. It is a good deal easier to hold the special vote ballots than the subscriptions, and another important feature is that we can credit up or start the subscriptions at once. All subscriptions turned in before 10 p. m. March 22, is included and will be counted on the special offer.

Just nine more days of the clubbing vote offer and all candidates who desire to increase their scores of votes should secure every possible subscription between now and Wednesday, March 22, as at that time the special offer closes. Don't fail to take advantage of it.

Interest Growing.

Great interest is being manifested on all sides. Candidates will begin to work in earnest. By reference to the list of candidates published it will be seen that there are many ladies all over the territory already entered, and the list is constantly growing, new nominations being received daily. The contest is only in its infancy and there is yet plenty of time for any candidate to enter and stand as good a chance to win one of the grand prizes as those already entered. But it would be advisable for anyone who desires to enter the contest or who wishes to enter the name of some friend to do so now.

Candidates residing in the small towns or on the rural routes outside of city limits of Greencastle, who have not been able to call upon the Contest Manager at his office at The Herald office, can obtain any information they desire by dropping him a letter. Those who have not obtained subscription books, will immediately be supplied upon request.

The ballots which appear in The Herald, can be mailed to the Contest Department, where they will be carefully counted and the tally recorded.

There is a grand opportunity for workers in District No. 2 and 3 for in these districts one $400 Hamilton piano and two diamond rings will be given away to some one. The field is large and the rural residents are enthusiastic for the ladies. Write to Contest Manager now and get started in the greatest of all contests.

FORMER ASBURY MAN DIES IN CALIFORNIA

LAFAYETTE, Ind., March 11.—Word from San Diego, Cal., tells of the death of Dr. Oscar J. Craig, former head of the political department of Purdue University. He was 65 years old. In 1895 he left three to become president of the University of Minnesota.

Dr. Craig was born in Jefferson county, Indiana. He was graduated from DePauw. At one time he was superintendent of schools at Sullivan, Ind. He had received many degrees from DePauw and Ohio State University.—Indianapolis Star.

HE ONCE TAUGHT AT FOX RIDGE

JUDGE NEWTON M. TAYLOR, HEAD OF INDIANAPOLIS JUVENILE COURT, WAS ONCE A PUTNAM COUNTY SCHOOL TEACHER.

TELLS OF HIS EXPERIENCE

What Judge Newton M. Taylor, who succeeded the late George W. Stubbs in the Juvenile Court, knows about children he learned years ago in a country school and at home since he became a father. He is a kindly, tender-hearted man, but a disciplinarian withal, for he was called upon some forty years ago to quell a school of riotous boys who had driven his predecessor to "the tall timber."

It was in 1870, Judge Taylor says, that he became a teacher in a country school. He had a theory that the maxim, "Spare the rod and spoil the child," was wrong, and he lived up to the theory until the spring of 1873, when he took charge of the old Fox Ridge school at Greencastle. Big, rough, country boys were his pupils, and they boasted of having driven away their teacher the year before.

They attempted to do the same to Judge Taylor, and he, deciding that all rules were subject to exceptions, abandoned his "spare the rod" theory. He whaled some goodness into these boys before the term ended and wore out a number of hickory switches in the whaling.

"Not one of the boys was particularly bad," says Judge Taylor, "but taken as a whole were a bunch of demons."

He taught but one term after that, having charge of the schools in Annapolis in Parke county. Although he quit the schoolroom he never lost sight of his former pupils, and during his practice as an attorney he frequently was in Juvenile Court, appearing at various times both for the defense and the prosecution.

The procedure of the Juvenile court is to be as nearly as possible the same now as before Judge Stubbs' death. Judge Taylor has selected Wednesday as the day to try girls and women. Saturday he will hear cases involving children who have to be in court. Saturday was chosen in order that the children would not be kept out of school.

The present probation system will be followed as closely as possible, he says, and whenever possible child offenders will be given chances to reform.—Indianapolis Star.

CHINESE FAMINE OFFERINGS.

The Ministerial Association of this city has forwarded fifty-two dollars to the American Red Cross for famine relief. Many individuals have given one dollar each, and one five-dollar subscription is included in the above amount. Remember the starving people when you go to church and drop an offering into the collection box for this cause marked "China." If you do not go to church hand your contribution to Rev. J. M. Rudy, treasurer of the Ministerial Association or leave at Herald office. The need is great and the call urgent. What can you do? Small amounts help—give what you can.

CLUB UNIONS IN OTHER TOWNS NEAR GREENCASTLE

In reference to an article published in the Herald a few days ago about the forming of a Union of the many clubs of this city for the purpose of the betterment of the town, it may be said that the same plan is being carried out in several other towns near here with large success. In Bedford, the Union of that town has asked prominent business men for suggestions. When a subject is suggested by several prominent men, the Union goes to work to carry out the plan. The Bedford Union has helped that town in many ways. A Union Club similar to the one at Bedford, has been organized at Bloomington, and is meeting with good success.

TO INVESTIGATE ILLEGAL VOTING

GRAND JURY IS CALLED FOR SESSION TO BEGIN TOMORROW—STUDENT VOTING TO BE LOOKED INTO.

TO PROVE VOTE BUYING?

The Grand Jury has been called to meet tomorrow. Several small matters are to be before the jury, but the paramount matter will be the investigation of the student vote at the local option election and an investigation of vote selling and buying.

The Grand Jury probably will go into session tomorrow morning but it will be several days before any findings, which may be made, will be given out. There have been persistent rumors of the sale of votes in the last local option election.

LOST LAST GAME OF THE SEASON

GREENCASTLE HIGH SCHOOL BASKETBALL TEAM MEET OVERWHELMING DEFEAT IN GAME WITH WILEY HIGH SCHOOL AT TERRE HAUTE SATURDAY EVENING.

BASE BALL TRAINING NEXT

Coach Smith's quintette lost the last game of the season on the Greencastle basketball team schedule when it dropped a game to the Wiley high school team at Terre Haute Saturday night. The locals were overwhelmingly defeated, the score being 61 to 18, in favor of Wiley. At no time during the game did the Greencastle boys have a chance.

The first half was one-sided, the Terre Haute boys making two points to the locals one, the whistle blowing when the Terre Haute five had 24 points, and the locals 12. The second half was even more one-sided. The game ended with the Wiley team having almost four times as many points as the Greencastle lads.

The game Saturday night is the last one to be played this season by the Greencastle team. Next week Coach Smith will start training his lads for the baseball season. The locals have material, which with good coaching, can be developed into a good high school baseball team.

LOCAL LODGE GIVE WORK AT BARNARD

MEMBERS OF THE GREENCASTLE ENCAMPMENT, NO. 59, I. O. O. F. VISITS UP-COUNTY LODGE SATURDAY NIGHT.

INITIATE 26 CANDIDATES

The members of the Greencastle Encampment, No. 59, I. O. O. F. visited the Barnard Encampment Saturday night and gave the initiation work to twenty-six candidates

On arriving at Roachdale the Greencastle men were met by carriages and taken to the home of Noah Bartlett at Barnard. Here the hosts had prepared one of those "good old-fashioned country suppers." Some of the Greencastle boys were "stickers" and it was hard work to get them to leave the table in time to get to the lodge room.

After short talks by several of the members of the Barnard lodge and several of the visitors, the initiation was given to the new members. After the work, refreshments were served. There were thirteen Greencastle men present. They are: Jessie Grogan, Clarence Shake, James Fisk, Oscar Williams, Elmer Gibson, John Friend, Frank Bartley J. L. D. Snyder, G. W. Conklin, John Cook, Will Jones, C. H. Meikle and Fay Hamilton.

NO NEW DISTRICT FOR PUTNAM CO.

GOVERNOR REFUSED TO SIGN BILL WHICH LINKED MONTGOMERY AND THIS COUNTY IN SENATORIAL DISTRICT.

NOTHING WAS CHANGED

Montgomery county is still united with Parke in a joint senatorial district and with Tippecanoe in a joint representative district, as the late legislature failed to pass any apportionment bill. A bill was put up to Governor Marshall which united Putnam and Montgomery in a joint senatorial district, but he refused to sign, thus killing it.

MANY WANTS SALOON LICENSES IN CLINTON

A Town About the Same Size of Greencastle, Sixteen Men Have Applied For Permission to Sell Liquor.

That the town of Clinton, Vermillion county, will have plenty of booze, there is little doubt. In the Clinton Saturday Argus, a weekly paper published in that town, sixteen men have published notices for application for liquor licenses. The city council of Clinton have not yet decided on the number of saloons it will allow to operate in the town. There is about the same number of persons living in Clinton as in Greencastle. The Vermillion county town is in a coal mining district, and the population consists mainly of coal miners with a large number of foreign inhabitants.

THE DEATH OF P. HUTCHESON

OLD RESIDENT OF WASHINGTON TOWNSHIP DIES AT HIS HOME EARLY SUNDAY MORNING—FUNERAL WILL BE HELD ON TUESDAY MORNING.

HAD LIVED ON FARM 72 YEARS

The death of Philip Hutcheson, age 80 years, one of the oldest residents of Putnam county, occurred at his home in Washington township, early Sunday morning. He had been in ill health since last November, but the immediate cause of his death was gripe. The deceased is survived by a widow, four sons and four daughters, all residents of Putnam county. He is also survived by one sister, Mrs. Pleasant Smith, of Kansas City, Kansas. The funeral services will be held at the home Tuesday morning at 10:30 o'clock. Burial in the Boone cemetery. Rev. Rudy will officiate.

Philip Hutcheson was born in Madison township, October 27, 1830 and lived with his parents in that township until eight years of age. The family then moved to Washington township. Mr. Hutcheson had lived on the farm on which he died, since he was eight years of age. On June 25, 1857, Mr. Hutcheson married Louisa Bence, a sister of Dr. G. W. Bence of this town.

While Mr. Hutcheson had never been an aspirant for honors he was a staunch Democrat and once served as supervisor of his township. He was a member of the Christian church, having been a leader in the building of the Antioch church, which is near his farm. He was a quiet man, devoted to plain, simple virtues and highly honored by all. During his life, the deceased accumulated much property in Putnam county and was known as one of the practical and successful farmers in this vicinity. He leaves many friends who will mourn his death.

ROOT'S FLAT IS NOT GOING TO BE ORDINARY

Senator Shows "Modest" Taste in Picking 22 Room Apartment.

New York, N. Y.—Senator Elihu Root has figured out the living proposition. He has decided that if a man must live in a flat, it might just as well be a nice, cozy little flat with all the comfort of home. That is what Root is going to have.

Of course, it is not quite like the average New York flat. It will be a little larger—22 rooms—and a bit more expensive, for the rental will be $24,000 a year.

The entrance hall is worthy of notice. Along its mosaic floor are set at intervals, tall brass standards with Tiffany glass globes. The standards are covered with velvet. In niches on the wall stand bronzes costing $1,000 each. The ceiling of the entrance hall is covered with real gold-leaf, and the walls were of the rare Caen stone from France.

Wonderfully appointed elevators manned by liveried servants, will take the senator and his family to their apartment doors.

But the entrance hall is as nothing compared with the interior. Imagine a flat of 22 rooms, with a duplex arrangement containing three rooms more above them. On entering the flat, the stranger thinks he's coming and going at the same time for French plate mirrors are used in stead of wall-paper. From this sparkling entrance hall, the door opens into the reception hall, all carved, Italian renaissance, parquet floors, plush walls in red and bronze chandeliers. Classy? Yes.

You walk over to the electric buttons and push one. The red plush wall opens—a secret door—and reveals the cloak closet, with electric lights, automatically lighted.

Right through a mirrored door is the dining room, done in French oak paneled, and boasting an immense log fireplace. There is a similar fireplace in every large room, not for heat but for the satisfaction of watching the glowing embers on a winter night. Then comes the billiard room, all white and carved done in the Louis XIV style.

Beyond the billiard room come the living room—it used to be the drawing room, but they are getting down to simpler English now. The living room is in Louis XIV, too, and behind it is the music room.

And in the center of all the rooms—wonder of wonders for a flat—is the great big conservatory. Caen stone again, with aquaria on the floor and mirrors on the walls and misty glass chandeliers, drooping like cloudy waterfalls at each end. Magnificent! With the mirrored doors all open, there are 5,000 square feet for entertaining.

And here are the bedrooms. The first is called the "master's" room. It is done in white, like the rest, and there is a big dressing room and a big marble bath room opening off from it. And then comes another and another and another bedroom as handsomely appointed.

In the bedrooms for women are great dustproof closets, glass-lined. There is also a nice little shoe closet with room for 100 pairs or more.

That funny little room? Oh, that's Fifi's room, or Yvonne's, or whatever else the mistress calls her pet Pomeranian.

THINGS IN SEASON

Of course, in these days of cold storage and fast trains all kinds of fruits and vegetables may be bought all the year round if the housewife can afford the high prices.

Many folks, however, don't like to eat things out of season, and a word as to what fish, game and vegetables are "in season" may help to vary the home menu during the coming month.

The seasonable fruits include apples, bananas, dates, figs, grape fruit, Malaga grapes, lemons, oranges, pine-apples, prunes and raisins.

Any or all of these may be purchased at any first class shop, while the vegetables for the month include beets, cabbages, carrots, celery, cress, endive, cultivated mushrooms, onions, parsnips, potatoes, pumpkins, spinach, winter Hubbard squash and turnips.

Poultry is plentiful, though rather high in price, and includes, chickens, ducks, geese, guinea fowl, pigeons, pullets, squabs and turkey.

Of course almost any kind of meat may be had, but those that are best during this first month of the year include beef, lamb, mutton, pork and veal.

That brings the housewife's list all the way down to the fish, of which there are many kinds.

To begin with, clams and oysters, lobsters, crawfish, scallops and shrimps offer suggestions for varying the daily menu, while other fish which may be bought at reasonable prices are black bass, haddock, halibut, mackerel, red snappers, salmon, salmon trout, smelts and whitebait.

The housewife who must market upon a limited income with a family whose appetites vary, usually finds the daily menu a heavy burden.

But by watching the seasons and buying when things are at their prime she may have many delicacies which otherwise she could not afford.

Then, too, a little of some unexpected good dish will go a long way towards making a dinner seem elaborate.

Grape fruit are plentiful and not expensive now, but how many housewives think to have grape fruit salad after the meat course at dinner?

The introduction of little fish or a fish course of some kind also makes up for a less expensive meat, while a tiny dish of cucumbers served with the fish makes it even more enjoyable and is not expensive.

So the wise housewife is the one who buys carefully and serves daintily whatever the month of the year it is.

Lace Jabot Gives Dress A Touch of Richness

The street costume is always improved by the addition of a dainty jabot, but when this is made of real lace a touch of richness is lent which cannot be secured in any other way.

Duchess, point, rosoline, venise send the price of this dainty jabot soaring, but the girl who is handy with her needle can do wonders in the way of imitating these imported novelties with small lengths of laces picked up in her shopping expeditions.

These can be deftly pleated or draped, or whipped around a strip of band embroidery to form a dainty bit of neckwear.

Almost any sort of lace is used this season, from fine mesh to the heavy Irish, so that old pieces of lace that have been laid away can once more be brought forth with the knowledge that they are again in vogue.

GREAT CEREMONY MARKS OPENING OF PARLIAMENT

All Traditional Pomp and Dignity Will Be Shown.

LONDON, (Special).—Amid all the traditional pomp and dignity of past centuries, King George V and Queen Mary will open Parliament on Monday.

No detail that will add to the splendor of the occasion will be omitted, and it will undoubtedly be the most important social and political event preceding the coronation.

The royal couple accompanied by the young Prince of Wales will be driven from Buckingham Palace to the Parliament buildings in the great state coach of gold and glass which reminds one of a fairy book illustration come to life, and seems strangely out of place in this age of democracy. But England and all Englishmen love the splendor of royalty, and are exceedingly proud of their ancient customs.

The six magnificent chargers, which draw the royal vehicle, will present a brilliant spectacle with their harnesses of gold and silver, and the gaily costumed footmen will walk on either side. On each side of the coach will march a Yeoman of the Guard in his quaint uniform, and a mounted squerry.

Proceeding the coach will be the Sovereign's life guards, and the van of the procession will be made up of the members of the Royal Household in their carriages. The route of the pageant will be along the Mall from Buckingham Palace, across the Horse Guards Parade into Whitehall and so on to the House of Lords.

Here there will be another procession headed by the King and Queen from the robing room to the two thrones. Preceding the royal couple will be three dignitaries bearing the Sword of State, the Cap of Maintenance, and the crown.

The thrones where the royal couple will sit are two heavily carved oak chairs, surmounted by crowns and ornamented with gilt and crystals. The feet rest on lions and more lions are enameled in blue on the backs of the chairs. Each chair is embroidered in silk with the designs of the royal standard, and at the top of the chair backs at each corner are the lion and the unicorn.

The King and Queen will wear the royal robes of deep crimson velvet lined and capped with ermine.

Seated in the front benches will be the peers clad in their scarlet and ermine, and immediately behind them, the peeresses. The diplomatic representatives of the various countries will also be present in their multi-colored uniforms trimmed with gold and lace.

Politically, the opening of the present parliament is a most important event. It practically marks a new era in British politics, as the House of Lords will be compelled to pass the famous Veto bill, which will greatly curtail their power.

This veto measure was the direct result of the Lords' failure to pass Lloyd George's famous budget in 1909, which resulted in the dissolution of Parliament in January, 1910.

The Liberal party was again returned to power, and the Lords were compelled to swallow the budget. In order to prevent any such crisis in the future a measure was drawn up by the government leaders depriving the Lords of any voice in financial measures, but it was known at the time that the peers would not accept the measure.

The death of King Edward last spring put an end to the differences between the two bodies for the time being, and King George then made an attempt to adjust the matter by a conference of the leaders on both sides.

This lasted all summer long and through the Fall, and when Parliament reassembled last November, it was announced that no agreement had been reached.

The House of Commons proceeded immediately to pass Premier Asquith's veto resolution, but this was ignored by the House of Lords.

A measure drafted by Lord Lansdowne, which provided for a change in the upper chamber, but no curtailment of power, was passed by this body.

This resulted in the dissolution of Parliament on November 28, and plunged the country into the turmoil of another election. When the results were ascertained, it was found that the Liberal party had again been returned to power having with the aid of the Nationalists and Labor parties a majority of 126 over the Unionists.

Indiana Boy Will Drive Long Race

"Happy Johnny" Aitken, driver of the National "40" Speedway Roadster, 1911 model, entered in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race over the Indianapolis Motor Speedway Memorial Day, May 30. Aitken is one of the oldest team drivers in the sport and has won many notable victories for the National.

U. S. HAS EYE ON SPEEDWAY

Government Experts Test Brick Paving at Famous Indianapolis Race Course and Call It Perfect.

Indianapolis, Ind.—The United States government has taken official notice of the Indianapolis Motor Speedway with the result that two engineer-physicists from the Bureau of Standards at Washington, D. C., have taken up headquarters at the famous brick course to make tests and observations which will show the effect of atmospheric changes on the vitrified paving surface. The Speedway was chosen as the most perfect sample of brick paving in the country and the peculiar slopes and curves at the turns of the race course give the only opportunity to test irregular paving and road construction.

Major James E. Howard, head of the experimental work for the government, is authority for the statement that the Speedway stands alone in the vitrified brick paving field as an example of almost perfect perfection, and the results obtained from the test there will be of lasting benefit to the cities throughout the land. The report of the experts will be sent to the Washington headquarters, and there will be distributed to all of the municipalities which use brick as a paving material.

RACES LOST BY DISSIPATION

Auto Champion Tells Why Hazardous Sport of Motor Racing Requires Careful Attention.

Indianapolis, Ind.—"Many of the biggest automobile races in the history of the sport have been lost the night before."

This is the statement of Ralph De Palma, champion mile-track motor race driver of 1910. De Palma recently visited the Indianapolis Motor Speedway here and announced that he would pilot a car in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race, May 30. He is undecided just what his mount will be, but he asserts that he would be a starter even if he had "to drive a wheelbarrow."

Discussing the long grind of seven hours which the $25,000 classic will mean, the fearless Italian pilot said:

"A prize of $10,000 for winning one race is not to be picked up every day, and I mean to be in at the finish of the Speedway race next May. This means that I must be even more careful of myself now than ever. I always have kept in good shape through consistent training, but this long drive will require the very pink of condition in every man who starts."

"Many of the biggest races in the history of the sport have been lost the night before. By that I mean that inexperienced drivers have given way to temptation and have indulged in intoxicants to an extent that rendered them incompetent to sit a wheel. Any auto race driver should be careful of his physical condition, as it not only endangers his own life, but that of the other drivers in the race if he is not in good shape."

DISBROW ENTERS LONG RACE.

Indianapolis, Ind.—Louis Disbrow, one of the most prominent of American race drivers, who drove a Pope-Hartford in the Vanderbilt Cup Race last October, and in the Grand Prize race at Savannah, Georgia, last November, has been entered in the 500-mile International Sweepstakes Race, to be held on the Indianapolis Motor Speedway next Memorial Day. Disbrow will pilot a specially built Pope racing car.

The other entries in the race thus far are Lewis Strang, Louis Larsonneur and Joe Jagersburger, in Case cars; C. B. Baldwin, in an Inter-State "50," built at Muncie, Indiana; Johnny Aitken, in a National "40" Speedway Roadster, 1911 model; Frank Fox, in a Pope-Hartford; Harry Knight, in a Westcott, and a Simplex, the driver for which has not been named. Ralph DePalma, champion mile track driver of 1910, may pilot this last entry through the long grind.

GOVERNMENT IS ASKED TO PAY HEAVY DAMAGES

Owners of Property Destroyed in Street Fight After Remuneration

LONDON, (Special).—An extraordinary legal situation has arisen out of the great "Battle of Stepney," on January 3, when Home Secretary Winston Churchill paraded over 1,500 police, foot guards, artillery and firemen to destroy two foreign desperadoes, who had entrenched themselves at No. 100 Sidney street.

It will be remembered that No. 100 was completely burned out, and the police say that no attempts were made to extinguish the flames until they were certain that the desperadoes were nicely burned up.

Every house along the street was battered and damaged from the hail of bullets from a maxim gun, and rifles and revolvers of attackers and besieged.

The damage runs into thousands of dollars, and owners and tenants naturally say somebody has got to pay. There is touching unanimity on that subject, but there is equal unanimity that no one is legally liable, and consequently none of the parties concerned has any intention of paying anything.

There are no legal grounds for an action against the crown, because that damage did not arise out of breach of contract or anything of that sort. No action for trespass and damage could be maintained against the police or military authorities, because the police and soldiers were only doing their duty, laid down by law, in attempting to arrest two suspected felons.

Owners and occupiers have no claim against the local municipal authorities for damage caused by riot and violence, because according to English law, it takes three or more persons to start a "riot," and there were apparently not more than two anarchists in the besieged house.

The insurance companies decline to pay anything in respect of damages deliberately inflicted by other parties and where the firemen made no attempt to put out a fire until everything was ruined. Equally the fire department can't be blamed when it was prevented from doing its duty by the civil authorities.

Pressure is now being brought to bear on the government, to settle the whole bill, "by a grant of grace."

Old Letter of Kaiser Wilhelm

Missle He Wrote When a Boy Is Brought to Light.

BERLIN, (Special).—An interesting letter written by Emperor William shortly after his wedding ceremony, to the commander of his regiment then at Versailles, has just seen the light of print. It runs as follows:

"My Dear Colonel—On my birthday I got many nice things, but the nicest of all the presents is the battered shot which you have presented to me. This mighty shell is a terrible thing indeed, and what damage it must do when it is whole, and when it comes whistling through the air and falls to the ground and bursts!

"And it must make an awful noise. I got a very great fright when I saw this shell, and I was filled with horror when I said to myself that these sugar-loaves are shot and thrown at our dear regiment and at our dear brave fellow countrymen. But, thank God! this happens no longer."

"For three weeks a truce has been arranged and it is to be hoped there will be no more fighting. Then you will come back to us crowned with glory."

"How delighted I shall be to welcome you all again! When I heard of St. Privat and Le Bourget, and still of Le Bourget, I should, in spite of a great fright, gladly have been grown up in order to have been there. In fact, I should have liked to be with the regiment every where."

"It is a great comfort to me to know that no more of you are being shot dead. I thank you many times and times for your kindness in thinking of me, and sending me this souvenir of this difficult time, through Count Finkenstein and the sergeant major. Good health to you, Colonel! May God protect and further guide you and the regiment!"

"Please thank your officers for the attention they have shown me. My mamma sends her kindest regards.—Yours very truly, (signed) Wilhelm Prince of Prussia, Second Lieutenant in First Foot Guards."

Miss Tawney Apple has a uncle buried under a tourin' car. It don't speak very well for th' cost o' livin' when a cat fish bites on a wooden minnow.

Tilford Moots has a sister livin' in Pittsburg that's undershot from blowing' soot off her nose. John Rockefeller would make a dandy arctic explorer. He kin go three days on one sody cracker.

Fortune Telling

Does not take into consideration the one essential to woman's happiness—womanly health.

The woman who neglects her health is neglecting the very foundation of all good fortune. For without health love loses its lustre and gold is but dross.

Womanly health when lost or impaired may generally be regained by the use of Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription.

This Prescription has, for over 40 years, been curing delicate, weak, pain-wracked women, by the hundreds of thousands and this too in the privacy of their homes without their having to submit to indelicate questionings and offensively repugnant examinations.

Sick women are invited to consult Dr. Pierce by letter free.

All correspondence held as sacredly confidential. Address World's Dispensary Medical Association, R. V. Pierce, M. D., President, Buffalo, N. Y.

Dr. Pierce's Great Family Doctor Book, The People's Common Sense Medical Adviser, newly revised up-to-date edition—1000 pages, answers in plain English hosts of delicate questions which every woman, single or married, ought to know about. Sent free, in plain wrapper to any address on receipt of 21 one-cent stamps to cover mailing only, or in cloth binding for 31 stamps.

A Fierce Night Alarm.
Is the hoarse, startling cough of a child, suddenly attacked by croup. Often it aroused Lewis Chamblin of Manchester, O., R. R. No. 2, for their four children were greatly subject to croup. Sometimes in severe attacks," he wrote, "we were afraid they would die, but since we proved what a certain remedy Dr. King's New Discovery is, we have no fear. We rely on it for croup and for coughs, colds or any throat or lung trouble." So do thousands of others. So may you. Asthma, Hay Fever, LaGrippe, Whooping Cough, Hemorrhages fly before it. 50c and $1.00. Trial bottle free. Sold by the Owl Drug Store.

Sunflower Philosophy.

Look for your own fool streak, the other fellow's being so prominent you can see it without looking for it.

This idea that a woman gets up in the night to investigate and purloin the contents of her husband's pocket rather overestimates the earning capacity of the average married man.

We hate to knock on tradition, but the fact is that men do most of the milking, unless the boys attend to it, not much to that milkmaid myth in these days of finishing schools and grand pianos.

IN MEMORY.

Of William Masten, who died March 13, 1910:
One long year, O can it be?
That I have mourned a year for thee;

And yet it feels so fresh the pain,
I think it o'er and o'er again.
Silently the shades of evening
Gather round the door;
Silently it brings before me
That dear face I can see no more.
Oh smile upon me from above,
That I may meet you some sweet day.

I loved him, yes I loved him,
But the angels loved him more,
And they have sweetly called him
To yonder blissful shore.
The golden gates were open,
And the gentle voice said come,
And with farewells unspoken,
He calmly entered home.

Softly the stars are gleaming
Upon a quiet grace,
Where sleepeth without dreaming
One I loved but could not save.
Sweet and peaceful be thy rest,
Forget you, I never can.
God called you; He also knows
His will be done forever.

—A Loving Wife.

All persons wishing to attend the funeral of Philip Hutchison tomorrow morning, can leave Greencastle at 8:53 o'clock on the Vandalla. This train now stops at Hamrick station, which is close to the home of the late Mr. Hutchison.

EIFFEL TOWER IS CENTER OF WIRELESS FIELD

Hertzian Waves Fairly Sizzle About Big Pole In Top.

PARIS, (Special)—Eiffel Tower is rapidly becoming the center of the world so far as the wireless is concerned. It is the pole about which the hertzian waves sizzle.

In addition to the military station there which France hopes to keep constant and instant touch with the African colonies, there is that which sends the time to ships at sea.

Within a short period the Eiffel Tower is likely to be able to flash the hours of midnight and midday to every ship in the Atlantic north of the Equator, no matter how close they may be to the American shore, also to those in the Mediterranean and Red Seas. Even ship in the harbor of New York may soon record Paris time.

To know the time with absolute accuracy, at sea, at present, without wireless, is impossible. A ship leaving New York, in possession of the exact time down to the fraction of a second.

At noon the day after sailing the ship's time is likely to be one, two or even more seconds out, for the time is calculated by distance traveled, etc. Rigorous exactness, therefore, is out of the question.

In the open sea, a second or two does not mean much. There are times, however, when absolute exactness is very important, as for instance when near land, shoals, etc.

One second means about 500 yards in locating the position of a ship three seconds would be nearly a mile and more than one ship has been lost by a less margin than this.

The twice daily transmission of the time from the Eiffel Tower will render a tremendous service. Wireless travels at about 180,000 miles a second.

The 3,000 miles across the Atlantic would be spanned practically without lapse of time and since the clock in the Eiffel Tower at Paris are connected to a hundredth part of a second, and transmit their time to ship at sea automatically, the absolute accuracy of ship's time is thus assured.

The time is flashed at one minute before noon and midnight, at high noon and midnight, and twice afterwards, the hour, all automatically thus making assurance doubly sure

Old Mystery Solved at Last

Murderer of German Officer Makes Confession While Intoxicated.

BERLIN, (Special)—The confession of an employee of the railway near Hanover promises to clear up the mystery of a murder which for months was the principal pre-occupation of German public opinion.

On January 21, 1901, Captain von Krosigk of the Eleventh Dragoons who was something of a martinet and consequently not popular with his men, was exercising his squadron in the Hippodrome at Gumbinnen when a shot was heard, and he fell from his horse dead. The bullet had struck him in the heart.

A still smoking carbine was found outside the piling at the Hippodrome opposite a hole through which it had evidently been fired. The murderer, however, who, it was assumed from the outset, must be a man from the regiment, managed to mingle with his comrades before anyone could notice him in suspicious circumstances.

Two non-commissioned officers, Martin and Hickel, were arrested, but though in one of the four trials that ensued the former was sentenced to death, both were finally acquitted and the affair was relegated to the storehouse of insoluble mysteries.

The man who has confessed Fischer by name, was in the Eleventh Dragoons at the time of the crime, but it remains to be seen whether he actually did the deed. His admissions were made while he was under the influence of liquor, and on regaining sobriety he was very anxious to recall them.

The motive he gave for the murder was that Krosigk had ordered him three days' arrest, and so spoiled his chances of being promoted non-commissioned officer.

RADIUM BUSINESS IS PICKING UP

PARIS, (Special)—The radium business flourished in 1910. The Bank of Radium sold $153,000 worth, or nearly two grains—1.92, to be exact. Of this $14,000 worth went for commercial purposes, the rest for medical.

The entire radium output was produced by the single factory, at Nogent-sur-Marna. Even a bigger business is anticipated for 1911.
